Adult / Family / Youth programs available

Description: Wolves, Coyotes and Wildlife! Education Program takes a close look at the differences and similarities between wolf and coyote biology, behavior, social structure, historical and current ranges, and ecosystem roles. As wild wolves are now naturally recolonizing back into California, the program focuses on hiking and backpacking in wolf country. The presentation will cover the history of wolves in California, the future of wolves in California and the Shasta wolf pack, the first documented wild wolf pack in California in over 90-years.

We'll also look at how our domesticated dogs compare and contrast with these wild canids. The mission of the program is to embrace biodiversity and facilitate peaceful coexistence of all species.

The program includes engaging video footage of both wild wolves and coyotes, plus the wolves at Wolf Haven, and exciting hands-on experience with animal skulls, tracks and antlers.

If you are in Southern California, don't miss this wonderful learning opportunity!
